CALL FOR PAPERS

The first International Conference on Recent Advances in Concrete Technology and Sustainability Issues (RACTSI) was held in 1992 in Athens, Greece. The 2nd conference took place in Las Vegas, USA, in 1995, followed by Auckland, New Zealand, in 1997. Subsequent conferences were held in Tokushima (1998), Singapore (2001), Bucharest (2003), Las Vegas (2004), Montreal (2006), Warsaw (2007), Seville (2009), Jinan (2010), Prague (2012), Ottawa (2015), Beijing (2018) and Milan (2022).

The 16th International Conference on Recent Advances in Concrete Technology and Sustainability Issues will be held in Munich, Germany.

Topics include:

- CO₂ reduction in cement manufacturing and sustainable concrete solutions
- Valorization of waste materials as SCMs
- Alternative binders, geopolymers, and alkali-activated materials
- Recycled and artificial aggregates
- High-performance, shrinkage-compensated, and underwater concretes
- Use of industrial/agricultural by-products for building materials
- Durability, corrosion and life-cycle analysis

Original research papers are invited for presentation and inclusion in the conference proceedings, with early-stage research accepted as posters.
